"HOMESPUN FOLKS" AT THE BUTLER TODAY

Tears vie with smiles in the story of "Homespun Folks," Thomas H. Ince's tremendous triumph for the Associated Producers, which will be the attraction at the Butler today. Perhaps in no American-made photoplay of recent years has there been such a vast wealth of appeal, combining human interest, comedy and melodrama. The new Ince picture contains heart throbs, romance and pathos, in addition to numerous comedy touches.

It tells of a country lawyer's fight against crooked politics, and as a modern picture of small town life holds the mirror truthfully to the real thing. These are the high lights of "Homespun Folks," its realism, its truth and its simple honesty. The characters are real, the plot is a story of human people and the direction is chock-full of master touches. Heralded by the film critics as a notable addition to the ranks of rural classics, who say that not since the original stage presentations of the time-honored "Way Down East," "The Old Homestead" and "Shore Acres" have the sentiment and courage of rural America been so faithfully depicted as in "Homespun Folks." The latest Fable News will be added to the program.

Tomorrow, Wallace Reid in "Sick Abed." Coming, Carpentier, the French champion.
